MEANS+MEASURES

Down through systems. Up through people.

Capability Statement

meansandmeasures.com

Means+Measures designs public information systems, records-review workflows, and AI-governance infrastructure for government, nonprofit, and civic-sector organizations.

Systems that keep responsibility, provenance, and decision-making visible — clear enough to understand, strong enough to stand behind, and legible enough that agency stays attached to the people inside them.

Core Capabilities

- Civic Information Infrastructure — resource directories, public data surfaces, multilingual navigation, correction workflows, confidence-tiered records, and machine-readable exports.
- Records & Review Systems — record-sufficiency review, public-comment preparation, procurement packets, and public-record organization.
- AI Governance & Provenance — governed agent-memory patterns, provenance review, stop-lifecycle design, and practical controls for AI-mediated workflows.
- Observational Data Systems — source-faithful ingestion, temporal and geographic integrity, and provenance-preserving data models.
- Plain-Language Institutional Interfaces — accessibility-forward intake forms, guidance pages, process maps, and public notices.

Representative Deliverables

- Resource directories & navigation hubs
- Records review & sufficiency packages
- Public data portals & open-data exports
- Data dictionaries & provenance models
- AI governance frameworks & policies
- Process maps & system documentation
- Public comment packages & filings
- Procurement & acquisition support docs

Differentiators

- Document-forward and static-first — deliverables are inspectable, citable, and durable; not locked behind a dashboard or login.
- A published boundary — explicit ethical exclusions and a record-sufficiency standard let a reviewer know in advance what we will and will not build.
- An operating instrument already in the field — a bi-state public-resource directory covering all nine MARC counties, with daily exports and a five-tier confidence model.

Selected Projects

Why Means+Measures

You work directly with the principal who builds the work — not an account layer marking up junior staff. Inspectable, document-forward delivery and no enterprise overhead: senior output at a fraction of a multistate firm's cost, with a published boundary so you know exactly what you're buying. Built for work where the public record matters and accountability can't be faked.

What We Won't Build

A published line, not a sales promise: no surveillance, predictive policing, discriminatory screening, dark-pattern intake, or systems that make vulnerable people easier to punish. You know the limits before you sign — and so does every partner we bring.
